Design Strategies for People and Performance

FEATURED SPEAKER

Ryan C. McCarthy, PE

Principal at JB&B, a Trinity Consultants team

Ryan McCarthy is a Principal at JB&B, directing and mentoring project teams, and fostering a culture of accountability, technical excellence, and continuous improvement, while also playing an instrumental role in the design and delivery of complex healthcare, hospitality, commercial, and laboratory sectors. His focus spans a wide range of projects, emphasizing strategic leadership, collaboration, and the translation of client objectives into practical, actionable solutions. Ryan oversees project management, architectural coordination, client presentations, and the development of construction documents and specifications, serving as a key liaison among clients, architects, and project stakeholders. He has served as lead project manager for several major developments, including the David H. Koch Center for Cancer Care at Memorial Sloan Kettering Center, the Kellen Tower for the Hospital for Special Surgery, the MSKCC Pavilion, and The JACX with Tishman Speyer in Long Island City. In addition, he holds leadership roles in JB&B's Healthcare Community of Practice and Knowledge Management Community, advancing best practices and knowledge-sharing across the organization.
